

Invitation to Synectics Technology Roadshow 2011

We would like to invite you to attend Synectics Technology Roadshows being held in conjunction with key industry partners, AMG Systems, Axis Communications, Eyevis UK, Gallagher Security (Europe) Ltd. and Intech Solutions, in November.

These free to attend events have been specifically developed to provide an exclusive opportunity for consultants and end-users to view a range of complimentary technologies for creating a total security solution.

Attendees can expect to learn about the latest technologies and products available from all of the exhibiting companies, as well as hearing presentations on key topics including 'The Future of Video Encoding' and 'Network Video- the past, present and future'.

At each venue a tour will be available in the afternoon for the attendees. Free on-site parking is available at each of the venues and travel information has been included with this invitation for your convenience.
